Euphoria

Acrylic on canvas

Norton Museum of Art Inspiration: Las manos de la esperanza (The Hands of Hope) by Oswaldo Guayasamín

In many of the memories I have of rough moments, I always find myself to be happy in some way or another which is why I named this piece "Euphoric." My theme comes from the photos that my family has kept over the years, and this 4x6 inch photo I chose to paint made me feel nostalgic and euphoric.
