Raccoon Road

Norton Museum of Art Inspiration: Dead Rabbit and Copper Pot by Georgia O'Keeffe

The idea stems from a familiar road on the way to my grandmother's house, a road of death and decay (like that of my theme) that houses the poor lifeless bodies of many innocent and purposeless animals caught in between the tires of those who did not care to look before speeding through. An existential question to be posed towards the real value of life as we know it.
